

7.2 Best Practices

GLIMPSES OF INNOVATION & BEST PRACTICES OF THE INSTITUTION

Best Practice 1.

Use of ICT based tools for academic excellence and Transparency in working.

Objective

1. To maintain flexibility and responsiveness to changing environments and to prepare staff and students for future workplaces.
2. To know and imbibe new administrative teaching and evaluation methods using ITC based technology.
3. To improve the quality of education with the latest ICT-enhanced teaching-learning practices.
4. To foster creativity and innovation with the help of technology in the classroom.
5. To harness technology for more effective student-teacher interaction and collaboration among students.
6. To build more efficient transparency for the utilisation of institutional facilities.

The Context

This digital era has changed the way students communicate, network, access information, and learn. The internet has become a reservoir of information, with a wealth of learning materials in almost every subject. The easy access to knowledge and the increasing use of information and communication technologies (ICTs) has galvanized the teaching-learning process in India. ICT-enhanced learning and evaluation methods not only make learning more effective but also prepare students to compete in the global economy by being part of a skilled workforce. It facilitates social mobility by enhancing learning experiences and providing new sets of skills. In this context, ICT-enhanced learning, Wi-Fi-enabled classes with projectors, and skilled faculty are the need of the hour.

The Practice

Wi-Fi enabled campus.

LCD projection facility in the classroom.

Development of a virtual platform for Lectures, unit tests, e-certificate course, webinars etc.

With ICT-enhanced learning and evaluation, new teaching methods are provided by faculty for students like learning PPTs, PDFs, E-books, pedagogy innovative tools, Zoom, Google Classroom, Kahoot (online quiz), Flipped Classroom etc.

Institute has provided virtual cultural activity platforms like singing competitions, video making competitions during the COVID pandemic.

Institute has developed an in-house CO-PO attainment sheet, staff appraisal form, online attendance system, etc. to bring paperless efficiency to academic work.

Institute has developed a transparent performance-based appraisal system.

Well-equipped seminar hall with interactive panels and Audio-visual aids helps the faculty to deliver interactive lectures and demonstrations through PowerPoint presentations, e-modules, learning videos, tutorials, and online quizzes.

Separate computer laboratories are provided for students.

Students and parents are registered on official Class WhatsApp groups, administered by the faculty members to enable active communication.

The institute has adopted and utilized ICT tools and pedagogies seamlessly over the years and has brought a significant positive impact on the teaching-learning process.

An automated library equipped with all barcoded acquisitions using ILMS Software (Biyani Technologies)

Different browsing stations (Google Chrome, Firefox, etc) have been made available to enhance student learning on campus.

The OPAC system is installed in the college library for providing easy access to data regarding the availability of books.

All library acquisitions are barcoded. Printing of barcodes and spine labels is carried out in-house with the barcode printer or QR code printer for better transparency. And barcode-enabled free e-content is available at the institutional library.

During the Covid-19 pandemic phase, teachers upskilled themselves and adapted efficiently to online communication platforms like Zoom video conferencing, Google Meet, and Microsoft Teams, as well as online evaluation tools like Testmoz and video recording software like OBS Software.

Faculty members have been provided with personal computers. Technological platforms such as Google Classroom and WhatsApp are used to share reading material, feedback, and evaluation.

During the pandemic, the semester end assessment has also been conducted online mode and through the use of Google Classroom.

Institute has provided a facility for fee payment to students/parents through QRL/ Online payment to an institutional account.

Evidence of Success

1. Effective and extensive use of ICT tools and methods of teaching and learning through enabled classrooms and platforms.
2. Enhanced library resources, with student integrations and e-access to publications, journals, and study materials.
3. Successful conduction of online classes during the pandemic period. Access to online materials and courses that allow students to broaden their scope of learning.

4. Effective conduct of intra semester assessments through Testmoz and online exams through Google Classroom.
5. Teachers' active participation and successful creation of quality teaching content and video modules in YouTube channels which can be accessed online and used in the classrooms.
6. Institute utilizes YouTube live telecast at institutional events.
7. Student's fees payment option gets easy by direct online payment in an institutional account which benefited outstation parents.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

1. Internet connectivity at the remote location was a big constraint during the pandemic period
2. Occasional power cuts and internet connectivity issues hampered the smooth conduct of online classes.
3. The online mode of teaching restricted two-way interaction and active participation by students, as students frequently kept their cameras and audio devices off, making it difficult to monitor the efficacy of instruction and obtain feedback

Personality traits improvement Programs

One of the greatest challenges for Institutes of higher education located in rural areas is of employability of its students and this employability can be developed through skill development programs. The Institution identified curriculum gaps as per industry demand and also initiated various training programs to keep the faculty updated so that they can prepare the student for facing the heat of the competitive world.

Objectives:

To lay a strong foundation so that students can compete in the competitive environment. Through soft skill development, the program updated the student, so that they can prepare themselves for professional job avenues.

To invite industry experts periodically for interaction with the students, to make them aware of the industrial working environment.

To organize personality development and motivational expert lectures in order to enhance confidence in students.

To build entrepreneurship qualities in students by organizing expert talks.

To provide Yoga and meditation sessions for reducing stress levels.

The Context:

Soft skill development is the first step to moving on, which ensures your entry into pharmacy corporate world, and thereafter curiosity and updating take you to the next stage with different soft skills like Self-image, Ambitious nature, Self-confidence, Decision making, SWOT analysis, personality development, and motivation. Creativity and mental health etc

Service Employment is not the only source of a carrier for pharmacy students; Government of India expects innovators and students to project as an entrepreneur under Make in India drive. With this inspiration, pharmacy graduates need to think about self-employment and Entrepreneur qualities during graduation.

Students are an asset to the institute, if timely shaped, as per industry prerequisite they will become a valuable human resource. There is a sizably voluminous disconnect between the industry requirement and the student's skill set which the industry sees first while recruiting fresh graduates. Companies have evolved different ways to deal with this situation.

For instance, the companies expect new students for placement to require at least knowledge about industrial technics and the environment with minimum training and optimum output. With this practical approach of industries, the DRGCOP has arranged industrial skill development programs for students and especially final year students so that they should be relatively industry-ready material by the time they pass out from DRGCOP.

However, this practice remains restricted to a few institutions. Education in India is 99% focused on theoretical aspects that's why more and more people in India are unemployed the bigger issue here is that academia has not revamped itself to suit contemporary needs.

The Practice:

To fulfil students betterment of soft skills and overall development, DRGCOP regularly organises different programs like skill development, personality development workshops, and Induction program for students. Like SGBAU University Amravati sponsored Soft Skill development programs for personality development and motivation by making them aware of Vision and goal in their life to survive in this competitive world.

To be optimistic and to have a positive approach towards life and to achieve the goal.

SWOT analysis so students can identify their strengths, weakness, opportunity, and challenges to get success in their careers.

Resume Writing and explore the importance of effective resume writing to grab the job opportunity.

Interview skills, vision and goal in their life to survive in this competitive world.

The various activities on verbal and Non-verbal Communication

Group Discussion to improve their inner strength, will help them in achieving success by increasing their confidence.

From a spiritual and health point of view, to develop the mental satisfaction and fitness of students, and all staff, Institute regularly conducted in-house Yoga and meditation programs. The best practice of DRGCOP encourages faculty to be experts in soft skill development. In fact the Institute has three SGBAU university-certified soft skill trainers the institute have four certified Yoga trainer.

Evidence of Success

Increase in placement of students.

More number of students are inclined towards soft skill oriented jobs like pharmaceutical marketing domain.

Participation of students is increased in conferences/seminars, poster presentation events

Students/faculties are being awarded for presentation events

Students are participating in participative learning methodologies like delivering class seminars

After the introduction of skill development programs, we have observed that the student selection ratio has taken an upward turn. In fact, students are not only participating but winning competitions poster presentations, and awards at the university level.

Institutional observation notice boosts students' confidence and ability to deal with academic challenges and students are less stressed during an exam.

The performance of the students in tests and assessments is above the satisfactory level.

Classroom interaction and participation have increased above expectation and they are benefitting in transactional and interpersonal communication skills

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Language Barriers:-As the college caters to the need of the underprivileged class imparting employability skills becomes complicated as the majority of the students of underprivileged sections are from Non-English medium and there is a strong bias and language barrier which they have to face and overcome
