

Short Autobiography Miss. Jaya P. Ambhore

Miss. Jaya P. Ambhore is working as an assistant professor at the Dr.Rajendra Gode College of Pharmacy, Malkapur (M.S.). She has completed her graduation and post-graduation from the Government College of Pharmacy, Amravati (SGBAU, Amravati University). She has qualified for the GPAT, NIPER, and PET exams. She has 4.5 years of experience in academics. Her area of research includes stability-indicating assay methods for antidiabetic drugs. She has published 20 research articles in various reputed journals with more than 200 citations. She is the author of two books published by renowned PV publishers. She has filed 02 patents with the Indian Patent Office. She has supervised and guided many PG students and undergrads. She has participated in many national and international conferences, seminars, and faculty development programmes. She is a winner and participant in the Aavishkar 2022–23 competitions. She is Life time member of APTI. She is currently involved in research on the development of analytical methods for various antiviral drugs.

Link of Google Scholar

<https://scholar.google.com/citations?user=QblegfwAAAAJ&hl=en&oi=ao>